What the Pros Use

SKIN CARE

The most in-demand derms, aestheticians and makeup artists reveal the products worth their price tags

La Mer the Moisturizing Gel Cream

"No other moisturizer makes skin as supple and perfectly primed for makeup.

I always carry an extra jar in case my clients try to take mine!"

—Makeup artist Patrick Ta, whose clients include Chrissy Teigen $315;

cremedelamer.com

Pro Tip
After applying this moisturizer, move on to your eye makeup to allow time for it to sink into skin.

Natura Bissé the Cure Sheer Eye

"This is the best eye product for diminishing dark circles, fine lines and puffiness. Plus: It contains pigments that brighten the skin."

—Facialist Nichola Joss, whose clients include Meghan Markle $125; naturabisse.com

Resurface by Shani Darden Retinol Reform

"Retinol has to be added to your nightly regimen at least six weeks before your big event, but it's a game-changer when it comes to reversing signs of aging."

—Aesthetician Shani Darden, whose clients include Emmy Rossum $95; shanidarden.com

iS Clinical GeneXC Serum

"My clients love this vitamin C serum because it evens the complexion and revitalizes the skin, leaving it unbelievably radiant."

—Aesthetician Shani Darden $170; shanidarden.com

Biologique Recherche Lotion P50

"This exfoliating toner is the gold standard for minimizing the appearance of pores."—Dermatologist Dr. Dendy Engelman, whose clients include Sofia Vergara $101; shoprescuespa.com

Joanna Vargas Euphoria Face Mask

"The minute this aloe-and-chamomile-infused sheet mask hits your face, its soothing ingredients relieve inflammation, redness and stress."—Facialist Joanna Vargas, whose clients include Elisabeth Moss $75 (for five sheets); joannavargas.com
